NEW MICHIGAN RACE TRACK

CONSTRUCTION OF COURSE AT NEW BUFFALO BEGAN YESTERDAY.

Two Chicago Railroads To Make Trip in Seventy-Five Minutes-Racing To Begin October 1 -Plans and Details.

Chicagoans who enjoy racing will have a chance to do so within a month on a new race course near New Buffalo, Mich. Work began on the construction yesterday morning and the management promises to begin a meeting of thirty-five or forty days October 1. The new track is to be operated by what is known as the Michigan Breeders' Association, with E. J. Camp, of Union Pier, Mich., as president, and Sheridan Clark, secretary and manager. Mr. Camp lives at Union Pier, Mich., is a real estate dealer and owns large interests in Berrien county. Sheridan Clark was secretary of the Crescent City Jockey Club of New Orleans for ten-or twelve years before the Cella interests got in there. He was secretary of the Chicago Racing Association at Hawtherne in 1902 and 1903 and had charge of the erection of the Jamestown, Va., plant and racing last year. Chicagoans who enjoy racing will have a chance thorne in 1902 and 1903 and had charge of the erection of the Jamestown, Va., plant and racing last year.

The new association has 225 acres of land, one mile west of the village of New Buffalo in the southwest corner of Berrien county and just over the Indiana line. It is not in any township. The tract of land is bounded on two sides by the tracks of the Pere Marquette and Michigan Central roads and is exactly sixty-two miles from Chicago. Arrangements have already been made for both the Pere Marquette and Michigan Central roads to run trains from their depots in Chicago to the race track gates in seventy-five minutes and for a round trip fare of $1 or less. There are no shipping piers at New Buffalo, though the track can be reached from Michigan City by a one-mile trolley ride. New Buffalo is a pretty little agricultural village with a population of 400, and three seloons. A good many workmen are busy on the site today and the construction contracts have been closed. The ground has already been surveyed and the confraction plans call for an oval track of one and me-eighth miles—a reproduction almost of the Saratoga course—with chutes that will furnish seven furlongs and one mile courses with but one turn. The track will easily drain as the bed will be of sand and clay with a heavy top dressing of loam. The first grandstand, to be hastily constructed, will be patterned after that at Harlem—a straight structure with the front nearly all stairs. It will accommodate 2.500 people. Stabling for 600 horses will be furnished before the plant is opened and Clark expects them to be crowded early and that many of the best animals in the cast will occupy them.

"The makes are deally offerings will be $2.700. There will be an open betting ring. All reputable bookmakers can operate in it and the slates and booths will be used. There will be no interference with a Michigan project, run by Michigan folks for the benefit of Michigan. No horse or track owner will control any of the stock. It will be all held by Michigan people

The St. Leger is run over the Town Moor cours at Doneaster, and the distance covered is one mile and three quarters and 132 yards. It is the last of the three great English races dignified by the appellation "classic," the other two being the Two Thousaud Guineas and the Epsom Derby. The race is of the guaranteed value of 6.500 sovereigns, or approximately $32,500. To Americans this year it was vested with a tinge of patriotic interest from the fact that the American-bred colt. Norman III.. was deemed to have a great chance of winning it and in recent ante-post betting was the favorite. He appears to have been soundly beaten, however, even by his stablemate. CONDENSED HISTORY OF THE FLIGHT STAKES.

The Flight Stakes will be run for the twenty-second time at Sheepshead Bay this afternoon. It is a race that has been marked by many thrilling finishes in which the swiftest horses of the American turf have participated. Stuyeesant, the first horse to run a mile in 1:40 in this country, was its first winner and since his year such excessively fast horses as Britannic, Kingston, Tenny, Clifford, Dr. Hasbrouck, Requital, Bendoran, Heliobas, Voter, Hamburg Belle and Roseben have triumphed in it. Kingston, Hamburg Belle and Roseben won it twice and Roseben will try to make it three times today, and may do it. Few would begrudge the famous "Big Train" the distinction of being the only three-times winner of the Flight. The record of the event is as follows:

CONDENSED HISTORY OF THE RUSSET HANDICAP.

Prior to this year the Russet was a handicap for the stayers and brought to the post in its successive years many high-class race horses. This year its value was cut down and it was made a selling race. Usually it has been a race destructive of the chances of the high-weight horses, even such a crack as Nealon going down in defeat last year before the lightly-weighted Misses Crawford. POPULAR M'DOWELL'S DAY TO SHINE.

Berwick and King's Daughter Land Two Montreal Races for Him.

Montreal, Que., September 9.—After a long series of losings T. C. McDowell finally broke into the winning ranks of owners at Blue Bounets today and took the two principal races of the afternoon. Berwick and King's Daughter were his successful candidates, and they won in a manner that left no room for doubt as to their superiority over the other racers here.

lor doubt as to their superiority over the other races.

Jockey Powers also regained his good form and piloted four winners. With a little more alertness on his part he would have made it five. Niblick, his mount in the closing race, was only beaten by inches on account of Powers' over-confidence.

Berwick conceded much weight to the others in the six furlongs handicap, but accomplished his task in great style, winning by a good margin from Lens. The latter, during the early running, helpied to make a fast pace, and raced Botanist into subjection, but tired slightly in the stretch, enabling Berwick to come into an easy victory.

The meeting of King's Daughter and Martin Doyle developed a betting duel between the partisans of both horses, with the mare more preferred near post time. Conditions today were slightly more advantageous to King's Daughter, not alone from the fact that she had Powers to guide her, but also that advantageous to King's Daughter, not alone from the fact that she had Powers to guide her, but also that the light weight, although it was even with Martin Doyle's impost, according to scale, enabled her to sprint into a long lead and set a fast pace that soon had her opponents driving hard to keep within striking distance. Martin Doyle threatened her mentarily in the first half, but the mare drew away from him with ease when Powers called on her and won with much in reserve. Martin Doyle had to be driven out to save second place from Goes Fast.

Deleanta again showed his good class by conceding great chunks of weight in the steeplechase and winning in a hard drive after leading all the way. Steve Lane was pressing him closely at the end, with Essex II. finishing third. Sal Volatile was backed smartly to beat Deleanta, but after running prominently for eight fences, tired badly and fell at the ninth hedge. Nuit Blanche fell at the thirteenth jump, but was remounted and finished the course.

Powers' good ride on Servile and Kennedy's poor work on Severus, the heavily backed favorite of the sixth, was responsible for the former's victory and Severus' failure to get a place. Severus was in a contending position at the three-furlongs post and going smartly when Kennedy nulled back sharply, allowing Servile and Braggadocio to pass him, Servile winning from Financier with Braggadocio third.

Neoskaleeta, which was backed by all the sharps in her last race, surprised them this afternoon by winning from Niblick after a spirited drive.

Edward Corrigan's stable will be shipped to Lexington on Sunday next.

The stewards announced jockey Saffel's suspension for the rest of the meeting for falling off Ballycastle yesterday.

DEATH OF PRESIDENT D. H. BARNES.

Sudden Demise of the City Park Jockey Club Chief in Chicago.

President David H. Barnes, of the City Park Jockey Club of New Orleans, died at his home, 368 Winthrop Avenue, Chicago, Monday morning of acute intestinal trouble after an illness of three days. He came from New Orleans two weeks ago to visit his family and close a construction contract with the Rock Island railroad. He was to have returned to New Orleans this week. The funeral will be held this morning at 10 o'clock. Interment will be at Calvary, Dave Barnes was but forty-five years of age and leaves a widow and three children. He was a popular contractor and nephew of Ed Corrigan and for Mr. Corrigan he built the second Hawthorne stand and Kansas City and City Park race tracks. For the last three years he had completed many extensive contracts in the south, notably a large hotel and theater in New Orleans and part of the Southern Pacific terminals in the same city. Mr. Barnes' connection with racing was clean and supportive and he had a keen affection for the sport.

MONTREAL RACING NEWS AND GOSSIP.

Montreal, Que., September 9.—Jockey Englander will probably never be seen in the saddle again. He was ruled off by the stewards of the Montreal Jockey Club for using particularly vicious and nasty language to Steward Fitzgerald. Prior to the occurrence Englander had been suspended for an alleged faulty ride on Nibilek, which had been beaten by Heine. The rider had gained considerable sympathy from the horsemen on account of the suspension, as it was patent to all observers that Heine was clearly Nibilek's superior in the race and won as his rider pleased. After Englander's venomous outburst he forfeited all sympathy and was severely censured by every fair-minded person acquainted with the circumstances. Montreal, Que., September 9.—Jockey Englande

He will be accompanied by Mrs. Tompkins winter. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Tompkins. The stables of Pat Dunne, T. C. McDowell, Barney Schreiber and L. A. Cella have been rather disappointing to their many followers during the first week of the meeting. The entire band in McDowell's stable were started during the first six days and were downed in turn. Berwick's failure, while a blow to his backers, still showed him to be the superior of any short-distance racer, under normal conditions, on the grounds.

There will be a number of shipments to Keutucky at the close of the present meeting, among those who will ship their strings south are: T. C. McDowell, J. T. Ireiand, P. Dunne, M. Goldblatt, T. W. Moore, J. T. Combs and E. Alvey.

ST. LOUIS ORGANIZATION PERFECTED.

Judge Joseph Murphy presided and such well known sportsmen as Barney Schreiber, Bert Hoffman, Max Orthwein, Lacy Crawford, Judge W. M. Henderson, Sana Lazarus, Guy Fisher, James Bright, Gaty Pallen and others were present. The committee decided to not hold the meeting that was contemplated for the week beginning September 19, as the time was too short to arrange the program. A seven-days meeting may be held commencing the first week in October. This matter will be decided tomorrow.

Take Purses.

New York, September 9.—When Fashion Plate won the Waldorf Stakes at Sheepshead Bay today, it devolved upon the owner of the colt, Harry K. Knapp, a steward of the Jockey Club and chairman of the State Racing Commission, to entertain his disappointed fellow nominators to the race at a banquet to be given by him at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel tonight. Only five two-year-olds contested for the valuable sweepstakes. The winner far outclassed his opposition and won like a youngster of considerable merit. Philip J. Dwyer's Sir John finished a good second, and his forward running agreeably surprised the spectators. Herman B. Duryea's well-backed Strike Out finished unplaced and beaten off. This was the very poorest race he has run during his disappointing career on the turf. The complete history of the Waldorf Stakes is tabled below:

The first three races right off the reel were captured by representatives from the famous Westbury establishment. Brookdale Nymph scored with ridiculous ease and at a fancy price, considering the moderate opposition in the opener. Fancy vanquished ten selling platers in the mile dash that followed, while Petticoat closed the sequence by defeating the sensational Trance in the Belles Stakes at five and a half furlongs. It was not the seemingly invincible Trance which had swept all before her previous to her tremendous setback in the Flatbush Stakes that started in today's race, but only a wraith of her former glorious self. There were sinister and disquieting rumors regarding Trance's condition before the race, and her running confirmed them. Miss Kearney, the other crack filly engaged, also ran poorly, being apparently unable to raise a respectable gallop at any stage of the journey.

The Belles Stakes was first run for and won by Bessie June in 1886, The tabled history of the stake since 1900 is given below:

NEW YORK RACING OF THE FUTURE.

New York, September 9.—Optimists believe there New York, September 9.—Optimists believe there will be racing here next year, but on a greatly reduced scale as to stakes and purses should Governor Hughes be nominated and elected. They seem to think that when some of the cases now pending trial have been passed upon by the highest courts speculation of some sort can be indulged in. So far not a single bookmaker arrested for violating the law and subsequently indicted has been tried by a jury, which naturally has the subject of turf betting up in the air.

Nobody seems to know at present whether the session at the Beach will be held or not. Horsemen are rather bitter in their feelings toward the Brighton management because some owners who won purses at the Beach in July have not as yet been able to get their money. It is said that if a meeting is decided on many horsemen will refuse to make entries, which undoubtedly will reduce the quality of the sport.

But, if, as is probable, the Jockey Clnb will operate the meeting itself, it will be a good one.

Seattle, Wash., September 9.—Gypsy King, neg lected in the betting to such an extent that his odd drifted back from 7 to 13 to 1, triumphed over good horses in the Clyde Handicap, today's feature at The Meadows. Little King, who has been making creditable rides since he achieved his maiden victory not long ago, rode the horse faultlessly. Mirze and Pedro, the favorite of the race, cut scant figure in the running and neither was placed at the finish

William Cahill's fast sprinter, Security, made a dismal showing as the odds-on favorite of the third race, being outrun by almost all the others from start to finish. Cahill had bet $700 on the a judicial investigation of the race will be made tomorrow. Ida May, the winner of this race, dis played surprising improvement over her recent es Shirley Rossmore, from the same stable, had ennexed the preceding race. Dredkin, Josie's Jewel, Jim Simpson and Red Ball made up a quartette of winning favorites

Dave O'Leary has received telegraphic instruction to ship S. C. Hildreth's entire racing outfit now quartered here to Oakland. This is taken as indication that Hildreth means to make Oakland his winter headquarters rather than Santa Anita, where he spent last winter. By Hildreth's orders, Uncle and Meelick are now being galloped in preparation for a winter campaign.

W. P. Fine and A. J. Jackson have decided to ship to Santa Anita instead of to Oakland, where they have raced for years.

Jockey Gross, who was ruled off here last year. caused an attachment of H. W. Hoag & Co.'s horses today in a suit brought for salary alleged to be due for the entire time the boy has been under the ban. Judge Hopper advised Ed Soule, the real proprietor of the stable, to resist Gross' demand, on the ground that ruling off vitiated the boy's contract.

RACING OF ERRATIC BUT SPEEDY PREFN

A peculiarly vexatious, but a speedy sprinter is own gelding, Preen. The vexation he brings is to the betting man. To him, when Preen crops up in a race it is dangerous to bet on or against the scent an Irish horse. Preen has always been Irish in his mercurial temperament and when pleased to go, he goes fast. When not so pleased, he goes slow and no deft application of whip or spur in-duces him to change his mind. Last winter Barney Schreiber tried to reduce him to ways of sober consistency, but gave up in despair and let him go In the course of the past summer he was taken or a bushwhacking tour over the tracks of the far away northwestern Canadian towns and, according to the reports of those who went along, seemed pleased with the traveling and change of scene and won everything in sight. When he returned Scattle recently, he returned to his old ways. When he returned to he has won many races, will probably win more, has amply paid his way and his record is as follows

NOTES OF THE TURE.

The sixty-four yearlings sent to England on Satorday by J. B. Haggin will be sold at auction durng the October meeting at Newmarket.

Field Daisy, the Whitney gelding which won a good race in H. P. Whitney's colors at Sheepshead Monday, is among the nominations to the English St. Leger of next year. His mother was Ed Corrigan's well known race mare, Daisy F.

It is stated in Paris, France, that August Bel mont has acquired a site for racing stables near Dieppe. H. B. Duryea also has rented the Gazon stables from Maurice Ephrussi. Two other American owners are seeking training quarters.

James R. Keene said Monday at Sheepshead Bay that in all probability he would not start Ballot in the Annual Champion Stakes, to be run next Satur-day, for the reason that he did not believe Ballot, with 127 pounds, could defeat King James

A. J. Joyner has decided not to start Hessian again this season. He had hoped to get the horse around to race, if not in the Annual Champion on Saturday, at least later in the season, but has found it inadvisable to attempt a further campaign with the Watercress colt.

The stockholders of the Brooklyn Jockey Club held a meeting Tuesday and discussed the coming meet-ing at Gravesend. It was the opinion of those present that while no bookmaking or poolselling could be tolerated, oral speculation in accordance with the decisions handed down by Justices Bischoff, Caynor and Hoyt would not be interfered with.

Discerning members of the Jockey Club look of course, for a dawn of better days following the in-evitable subsidence of the present Hughes folly, but they do not expect that consummation to be hastened through the efforts of Mr. Belmont. Racing in New York has had no aid from that source and does not look for any .- New York Telegraph.

W. B. Gilpin has just returned to New York from Kentucky, where he went to look over a bunch of yeanling colts and fillies by Adam in the Millstream Stud at the instance of an English horseman and ar old friend, Mr. John Reid Walker, brother of W. Hall Walker and owner of a big stable in England, as well as a breeding establishment in Ireland. Mr. Walker likes the Adam breed and commissioned Mr. Gipin to look the lot over in Kentucky.

ENGLISH RACING NEWS AND GOSSIP.

Miserable Death of a Once Famous Breeder-Starting Gate Troubles-Statistics of Season

London, Eng., August 26.—William Blenkiron, one of the founders of the once famous Middle Park Stud in England, was found dead in a common lodging house in London, August 25. He was seventy years se in London, August 25. old and penniless when he died. When the Middle Park Plate was instituted in 1866, and won by Royal Rake, it was the father and son who gave the first bonus of $2,500, a sum at first accepted by the stewards of the Jockey Club, but subsequently refused by them, though they were willing to perpetuate the name of the Eliham establishment, just the same as they did with Mr. Gee, who at the time was a contemporary of the Messrs. Blenkiron at the Stud Farm.

The Middle Park dispersal of 1872 put all records he shade. It lasted over four days, and the late Tattersall there disposed of 328 lots, which in the shade. realized no less a sum than $511,675. It comprised thirteen stallions, 198 mares and 117 colt-foals and Few of the principal purchasers are now in the land of the living. Of the foreigners, Count Lehndorff, who purchased on behalf of the German government, still remains, but the principal buyers can be counted on one's fingers' ends. However, amongst them may be mentioned Sir Frederick Johntone, the Hon. H. W. Fitzwilliam and Henry Chap

Henry Chaplin at the sale bought Seclusion. She the dam of Hermit, his great Derby winner, and subsequently the lord of the Blankney harem. He also bought the daughter of Tadmor, out of Miss Sellon, covered by Blair Athol, at $12,500. If one goes into Eltham at the present time, all the old folks still point to an existing milk farm on the site of the old paddocks, and tell you that Hermit was bred and reared there and ran about at the foot of Seclusion, just the same as did a colt, afterward called Marksman, at the side of Stray Shot. Mr. Chaplin bid for both at the Middle Park yearling sale in 1866. Curiously enough, Mr. Tattersall knocked them both down at $5,000 each. The late Mr. Merry got Marksman and Mr. Chaplin secured Hermit. In the Derby Hermit beat Marksman after desperate race by a neck. At the 1872 Middle Park dispersal Blair Athol was sold at $62,500 and was amid cheering kept in the country by what was a newly formed English stud company, which bought the cream of Middle Park and started the Cobham. Other stallions sold at the time were Blair Athol's own brother, Breadalbane at $30,000, Gladiateur at $35,000, Mandrake at $10,500, Saunterer at $10,500, and Victorious at $10,000.

On the death of his father, William Blenkiron for over ten years, pretty well filled up the old boxes, kept up the annual yearling sales and dis-pensed the old hospitality so well known in the days of his father. Having lost Blair Athol, the de ceased tried Scottish Chief, which had run third to Blair Athol and General Peel in the Derby of 1864, but had afterward won the Ascot Cup. was not the success anticipated, but after much s vice came up for sale in September, 1883, and then realized $2,500.

Pegasus, of the Australasian, writing to Sportsman about the trouble over starting appliances which is continuous in England, says:

"It is incomprehensible to us Australians that the starting gate has not met with popular favor in England. From time to time the home mail brings out news of a fresh outery against the gate, and though its champions never fail to crush such attempts to do away with the patent barrier in favor of the old-fashioned flag system, we must presume that a very considerable percentage of your sports men would rather never have heard of Messrs. Polain, Gray and other starting-gate inventors. Of course, it is only reasonable to suppose that this would rather never have heard of Messrs section must have some cause for their undisguised apart from sheer conservativeness and the dread of progression.

"Even the leading advocates of the barrier have occasionally to make apologies for what they consider its incompleteness, and they offer suggestions by way of improvement in order to bring it up to requirements. One writer, Mr. Purefoy, prefers the gates which rise straight upwards and not outwards. He also recommends lining the horses up some ten feet behind the ropes. Out here we have both patents in operation, the one giving as full a measure of satisfaction as the other. Both work perfectly, without the need of a dummy line back from the

'The idea of reverting to the silly old flag starts would be scoffed at in all parts of the Common wealth, so smartly and so smoothly do the Watson weath, so smartly and so shooting do the watson brothers, of Sydney and Melbourne, S. J. Chipper of Perth, and even the provincial starters carry out their duties. 'Delayed' or 'false' starts we have seldom heard of since the advent of the starting gate; hence the unnecessariness of a signal arm ahead of the starter to enable him to call back his field. With a little schooling, our horses—two-year olds and all—line up against the ropes like a file of soldiers. Naturally an outlaw is occasionally en-countered, but the starters treat them with scant consideration, and all clubs reserve the right to refuse the entry of a fractious horse. Even this pre caution was not deemed necessary until the de scendants of Galopin and one or two other English sires became so numerous on the Australian turf.
